DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C 102(e) as being anticipated by Kanke et al. (US 6,839,643 B2).

Regarding to claim 1, Figs. 1, 7 and 8B of Kanke et al. teaches a semiconductor integrated circuit, comprising: a first terminal receiving an external power supply voltage (10) provided from outside; a voltage generating circuit lowering the external power supply voltage and generating an internal voltage; an internal circuit using said internal voltage (power supply 10 coupled to power supply 3 and generated voltage Vref); an A/D conversion circuit (21) converting the internal voltage (Vin) from an analog value to a digital value so as to output a digital signal to the outside; and a second terminal providing the digital signal to the outside (output from A/D 51).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 2-27 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. (See enclosed Form PTO-892).
